WORK OF LAND COURT

Summary of Business Transacted by Court of Private Land Claims for Past Year.

55 GRANTS WERE REJECTED

Nearly Six Millions of Acres Restored to the Public Domain—Twenty-nine Cases on the Docket Yet to Be Tried.

The business transacted by the court of private land claims for the year ending October 5, 1898, has determined the ownership of large areas of land in New Mexico, Colorado and Arizona.

During the year 51 cases on the docket for New Mexico were decided and 48 grants rejected. The area of land embraced in the number of cases tried, claimed by virtue of old Spanish and Mexican donations, was 5,556,694 acres. Of that amount 7,400 acres were confirmed to the claimants and 5,549,294 acres were restored to the public domain. The largest grant rejected was the Las Animas, in Colorado, under which 4,096,346 acres were claimed. The smallest grants rejected were the Catarina Maes and the De Vera, in Santa Fe county, and the Felipe Medina and Manuel Fernandez in Taos county, in New Mexico, of 300 acres each. In two cases confirmations were made for less acreage than was claimed. Those were the Santo Domingo and the San Felipe pueblo grants, wherein 20,000 acres in Bernalillo county were claimed, and 1,200 acres were allowed, and the Juan Bautista Valdez grant, under which 150,000 acres were claimed in Rio Arriba county, and 1,200 acres were allowed.

Cases Finally Disposed.

Six cases were finally disposed of, as follows:

The Bartolome Baca grant in Valencia county, claimed by Eliza L. Bergere et al. This grant was by a decree of the court entered September 29, 1894, confirmed to the extent of 11 square leagues, or 47,740 acres. Upon appeal to the supreme court of the United States, by a decision rendered October 18, 1897, the case was reversed and remanded to the lower court with instructions to dismiss the petition, and on January 21, 1898, the grant was rejected.

The Rio Tesuque or Juan de Benavides grant in Santa Fe county, claimed by Manuel Romero y Dominguez. This grant was confirmed by the court for 1,100 acres on March 25, 1897. On September 28, 1897, the United States moved for a rehearing, which was granted, and on February 15, 1898, the court rejected the grant in toto.

The Bartolome Sanchez grant in Rio Arriba county, claimed by Bartolome Sanchez et al. This grant was confirmed by the court for 10,000 acres, October 2, 1897. At the January term, 1898, the question of boundaries was reconsidered and the area of the grant reduced to about 5,000 acres.

The San Jose Springs grant, in Bernalillo county, claimed by Pedro Perea. This grant was confirmed September 29, 1894, for about 10,000 acres, and on January 28, 1898, the case was dismissed without prejudice to claimant's rights if any, under the confirmation.

The Canada de Cochiti grant in Bernalillo county, claimed by Joel Parter Whitney et al. This grant was confirmed to the extent of 5,900 acres September 29, 1894. Upon appeal to the supreme court of the United States the decision of the lower court was reversed as to the west boundary and the case remanded for further proceedings. On February 16, 1898, a decree was entered by the court, fixing the boundary at a point such that the area of the grant as thus finally confirmed is 15,000 acres.

The Jose Garcia grant in Bernalillo county, claimed by M. S. Otero. This grant was confirmed by the court May 26, 1897, with boundaries that appeared to contain 109 acres. A rehearing was granted on application of the claimant and on July 5, 1898, the grant was rejected in toto. The original acreage claimed in this grant was 76,000.

Surveys of Grants Approved.

Cubero grant in Valencia county, claimed by Juan Chavez et al.; approved for 16,490.94 acres.

Borrego Spring grant in Bernalillo county, claimed by Amado C. de Baca et al.; approved for 16,079.80 acres.

The total acreage of the surveys of grants approved is 83,936.11.

GRAND LODGE OF ODD FELLOWS.

Meeting Held in Gallup Well Attended—
Officers Elected—Dedication of New Hall—Next Session Will Be Held in Las Vegas.

The grand lodge of Odd Fellows, Jurisdiction of New Mexico, met in Odd Fellows' hall in Gallup at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, Grand Master W. A. Givens, of Las Vegas, presiding. The morning session was devoted to routine work. When the lodge convened in the afternoon an address of welcome was delivered by Rev. P. H. Simpkins, pastor of the Congregationalist church, which was responded to by Grand Representative R. H. Rice.

When the reports of the different officers were read it was learned that during the past two years 21 members of the order in the territory had died. The report of the grand treasurer showed the order to be in a flourishing condition and growing more rapidly than in the past history of Odd Fellowship in New Mexico.

The election of officers resulted as follows: J. C. Spears, of Gallup, grand master; Samuel Vann, of Albuquerque, deputy grand master; Homer T. Unsel, of Las Vegas, grand warden; J. P. Lantz, of Albuquerque, grand secretary; A. P. Hogle, of Santa Fe, grand treasurer; N. E. Stevens, of Albuquerque, grand representative.

The by-laws were changed to provide for a meeting of the grand lodge annually, in place of biennially as heretofore, and the next session will be held in Las Vegas.

There were 31 members of the grand lodge present, and every one enjoyed the occasion to the fullest. Among the addresses made which attracted special attention were those by ex-Governor Rich, Hon. T. A. Phinney, A. P. Hogle, Captain Conroy, N. E. Stevens and W. A. Givens. Mr. Stevens, in his talk, called attention to the fact that within a radius of 13 miles of Gallup 87 Odd Fellows were participants in the war with Spain, as members of the different companies which had gone from the territory.

One of the features of the meeting of the grand lodge was the dedication of the Odd Fellows' hall, just finished in Gallup. The building is two stories in height, 35,000 feet in size and cost $9,000. It is among the finest society buildings in the southwest, and the Gallup Odd Fellows are justly proud of it.

The meeting of the grand lodge was a success in every particular, and those attending speak in the highest terms of the hospitality of the Gallup people.

The reports at the Socorro synod of the Presbyterian church showed a large and gratifying amount of work done by the synodical missionary among the mission schools, vacant churches, and special work with the Mexicans and Indians. There are over 50 mission teachers in New Mexico and Arizona, and during the past year 16 new ministers have been located within the synod. Churches have increased in membership, and there are other signs of growth. Rev. R. M. Craig was re-elected synodical missionary. The next annual meeting of the synod will be at Albuquerque.

It is printed in both English and Spanish, and is a marked advance in the enterprise of musical journalism. Frank D. Abbott is the editor and proprietor. The letter press work is very good, and the matter well selected.

The Mutual Building and Loan Association, of Santa Fe, has filed a copy of the amended by-laws of the association in Secretary Wallace's office, in conformity with the territorial statute governing corporations.

W. H. Goebel has received word that his son, Captain Gustav Dyes, of Liberty, Mo., has just died, at the age of 55. The captain was formerly well known here from the fact of his being prominently identified with the building of the city water works.

Remember the sale of home-made bread, pies and cakes by the members of the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday afternoon. Maximiano Martinez was thrown into jail last night on charge of assault and battery. The accused was subsequently released from the charge of assault and battery, but was bound over to keep the peace in 1899 bonds. Constable Francisco Anaya made the arrest.

A 325-pound bell for the Indian school has just been received by W. H. Goebel. It is of steel alloy and came from Hillsboro, O.
